

Please continue to restrict cell phone use on flights. Having to listen to someone drone on endlessly on their cell phone for an entire flight would be as bad as having to sit next to a screaming infant. However, allowing cell phone use for the last 15-30 minutes of a flight would be useful. This would allow passengers to arrange their ground transportation and to make arrangements on where to meet those who may be waiting for them.

Thank you for the opportunity to comment.

Stephen Warmbier